DECLARATION UNDER 37 C.F.R. § 1.132

Sir:

I, John Lambert, hereby declare and state:

THAT I am a citizen of United States of America;

THAT I have received the degree of Ph.D. in Biochemistry from the University of Cambridge, England, UK;

THAT I have been employed by ImmunoGen, Inc. since 1987, where I hold a position as Senior Vice President, with responsibility for Pharmaceutical Development;

Mark Hardy, one of the authors of the Weitzhandler et al. publication, directly worked under my supervision and control from March 25, 1991 until March 22, 1995 at ImmunoGen, Inc.;

THAT I have reviewed the Second Exam Report in the above mentioned application mailed June 22, 2007.

Weitzhandler et al. discloses My9-6, an antibody owned by ImmunoGen Inc., the Assignee of the instant application. Mark Hardy, an ImmunoGen, Inc. employee, is an author of Weitzhandler et al. My9-6 was under the control of Mark Hardy, was used for ImmunoGen, Inc. purposes and was not distributed to the public as of the date that Weitzhandler et al. was published. Moreover, as indicated at paragraph 245 of the pending application, the My9-6 antibody of the present invention was not deposited in the ATCC until November 7, 2002. Therefore, the antibody itself was not publicly available as of the 1994 publication date of Weitzhandler et al.

Furthermore, Weitzhandler et al., is very limited in scope. For example, Weitzhandler et al. does not identify, either explicitly or implicitly, the identify of the antigen to which My9-6 binds. Weitzhandler et al. does not teach a scientist of ordinary skill how to make and use My9-6. The reference also fails to identify the antibody's sequence, either as all. encoding polynucleotide or a polypeptide. Because the reference fails to disclose any meaningful information about the antibody, it impossible for one of ordinary skill in the art to create MY9-6 based on the disclosure of Weitzhandler et al thus the disclosure of a name, i.e., My9-6, alone cannot place the subject matter of Applicants' claims in the public.

I hereby declare that all statements made herein of my own knowledge are, true, that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true, and that willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issued thereon.

I declare further that all statements made herein of my own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable, and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issuing thereon.
